The content of the APC's should reflect among others the names and addresses of the parties, the rights and obligations of the parties, type, quality and quantity of the agricultural produce and description of units of measurement, price and term of payment, system of transportation and related costs, the duration and validity date of the contracts, dispute resolution mechanisms.

Producer and contractor can agree on specific conditions that entitles them to terminate the contract. However, the party that terminates without mutual consent shall be liable to compensate the other party for the damage arising from termination of the contract. Council of Ministers shall determine the calculation of the compensation for damage due to termination by a regulation.

Disputes shall be first settled amicably. When amicable settlement fails to produce result, then the parties may agree to resort to mediation by a 3rd party or settle the matter by arbitration. Where the parties fail to resolve the dispute through mediation or arbitration, they may take the matter to court of law with relevant jurisdiction.

To sum up, APC Proclamation aims to modernize transactions in agricultural produce and bring the agricultural sector intertwined with customary practices to a level of standard laws and procedures of transaction. Due to this, the Proclamation declares that no law or customary practice shall insofar as the laws are inconsistent with the Proclamation shall have no effect on matters provided in the Proclamation. The aim of the Proclamation is to bring the agricultural sector to a modern level of contractual agreement, ensuring the sector benefiting itself and the agro processing transformation of the country.
